Our records did not indicate any paid association with any other individuals on the attached list.
I spent some time exploring numberDivision did also. There is some indication that he would turn down a request for information, etc., if he believed that such a request was not in the best interest of his employer. Again, the record is a little fuzzy, but there is no indication that he received any type of compensation.You may want to phone a negative report, but I have attached a suggested response in the event you wish to send a letter.
